SPOILER WARNING!!

Alright, so I loved Crysis, the alien scenes were amazing, and the engine was easily the most incredible I've ever seen. But, after all of that running around shooting Koreans when the aliens showed I was like, now this is getting awesome, and then it ended! Did anyone else love it but think it ended just when it was getting warmed up?

Yep, Crysis was waaaaay tooooo much Korean action and not enough Alien action. It ended too soon by a long shot. I was like 'Oh yeah' and then the credits rolled...why it wasn't all out alien action from word go I'll never know...hopefully Crysis Warhead won't suffer the same issues...though the previews might indicate otherwise....
